WAR PRECAUTIONS ACT

TIME-PAYMENT GOODS REMOVED

GOODS TO BE RETURNED, AND DAMAGE PAID

The case was concluded at the Court of Requests yesterday, before the Commissioner (Mr. W. O. Wise) in which proceedings were taken under the War Precautions Act and Regulations.

The plaintiff was Kate Reason, who sued McCrow and Sons, furniture dealers, and E. Midson, their for £25 damages for the seizure and removal of her furniture and wearing apparel from 8 Brisbane-street.

The case was opened the previous day when plaintiff stated that she was the wife of Edward Fitzgerald, of Hobart but that she was the dependent of Gunner Joseph Reason, 15th Battalion, Fourth Infantry Brigade, Machine-gun Service in France, who was the father of her two children. She had bought goods valued at £15 17s., from defendants, and had paid about £1 6s on them in the hire payment system.

Legal argument followed as to whether the War Precautions Act applied in this case, in which plaintiff was not divorced from her husband, but was dependent on Gunner Reason.

Mr. W.M. Hodgman (Messrs. Page Hodgman, and Seager) represented plaintiff and Mr. V. I Chambers (Messrs. Butler, McIntyre and Butler) appeared for the defendants.

Harry James Gordon Boon, salesman for defendants, stated that he removed the goods from plaintiff's room to the storeroom at the top of defendant's premises.

Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Defence Department, in 1920/21, contacted the next of kin of the deceased World War 1 soldiers to see if they wanted to include a personal inscription on the permanent headstone at St. John the Evangelist Churchyard at Sutton Veny. Space was reserved for 66 letters only (with the space between any two words to be counted as an additional letter) & the rate per letter was around 3 ½ d (subject to fluctuation).

The expense in connection for the erection of permanent headstones over the graves of fallen soldiers was borne by the Australian Government.

(Information obtained from letters sent to next of kin in 1921)

Pte Harry James Gordon Boon does have a personal inscription on his headstone.
