Douglas COLLINS

Arthur Douglas Collins was born in 1882 at Penn Fields, Wolverhampton, Staffordshire, England to parents Henry & Caroline Collins (nee Boell). His birth was registered in June quarter 1882 in the district of Wolverhampton, Staffordshire, England

Henry & Caroline Collins & their 5 children arrived in Western Australia aboard the Chollerton on 25th March, 1887. Arthur Douglas was aged 5 years.

(Arthur) Douglas Collins was a 33 year old, single, Nurseryman from Ferndale, Burswood, Western Australia when he enlisted on 8th November, 1916 with the Australian Imperial Force (A.I.F.). His service number was 3354 & his religion was Presbyterian. His next of kin was listed as his father – Mr Henry Collins of Ferndale, Burswood, Western Australia. In his Attestation Papers, Douglas Collins had stated that he had previously been rejected for Service.

Private Douglas Collins embarked from Fremantle on HMAT Berrima (A35) on 23rd December, 1916 with the 5th Pioneer Battalion, 8th Reinforcements & disembarked at Devonport, England on 16th February, 1917.

Reinforcements were only given basic training in Australia. Training was completed in training units in England. Some of these were located in the Salisbury Plain & surrounding areas in the county of Wiltshire.

Private Douglas Collins was marched in to Training Battalion at Larkhill Camp, Wiltshire on 18th February, 1917 from Australia.

Private Douglas Collins was admitted to Fargo Military Hospital, Wiltshire on 13th March, 1917 from Larkhill Camp – seriously ill with bronchitis.

Private Douglas Collins died of broncho-pneumonia at 8.15 a.m. on 15th March, 1917 at Fargo Military Hospital, Durrington, Wiltshire.

A death for Douglas Collins, aged 35, was registered in the March quarter, 1917 in the district of Amesbury, Wiltshire.

Private Douglas Collins was buried in Durrington Cemetery on 17th March, 1917 – plot number 222 He was given a funeral with full military honours, with a Band, Firing Party, mourners & a Bugler.

From the Red Cross Wounded & Missing File on Pte Douglas Collins – a letter written by The Matron of Fargo Hospital, Salisbury Plain, dated 20th April, 1917:

“Died Bronchitis” – He was admitted to hospital 13.3.17 and died 15.3.17. He was buried 17.3.17 in Durrington Cemetery grave number 222 on right hand side of path. He was desperately ill when sent in from the camp – every care and attention was given but with no avail. The Winter has been very severe and the Australian troops have suffered terribly. The sister of the Ward always writes to the relatives if possible so I hope by now they would have heard from her.

Private Douglas Collins was entitled to British War Medal only. A Memorial Scroll & Memorial Plaque were also sent to Pte Collins' next-of-kin – his eldest brother (as parents were deceased – Henry Collins died 1921 & Caroline Collins died 1922) Mr Herbert W. Collins – (August, 1922 & October, 1923)

The Commonwealth War Graves Commission lists Private Douglas Collins – service number 3354, aged 33 years old & served with 5th Australian Pioneers. He was the son of Henry and Caroline Collins of “Ferndale”, Burswood, Western Australia.

D. Collins is remembered on the Western Australia State War Memorial which is located at the top of Kings Park and Botanic Garden escarpment, ANZAC Bluff, Fraser Avenue, Perth, Western Australia. The memorial was developed around an 18 metre tall obelisk as the principal feature, which is almost a replica of the Australian Imperial Force Memorials erected in France and Belgium.

The heavy concrete foundations are supplemented by heavy brick walls which enclose an inner chamber or crypt. The walls surrounding the crypt are covered with The Roll of Honour; marble tablets which list under their units the names of more than 7,000 members of the services killed in action or as a result of World War One.

Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Defence Department, in 1920/21, contacted the next of kin of the deceased World War 1 soldiers to see if they wanted to include a personal inscription on the permanent headstone at Durrington War Graves Cemetery. Space was reserved for 66 letters only (with the space between any two words to be counted as an additional letter) & the rate per letter was around 3 ½ d (subject to fluctuation).

The expense in connection for the erection of permanent headstones over the graves of fallen soldiers was borne by the Australian Government.

(Information obtained from letters sent to next of kin in 1921)

Private D. Collins does have a personal inscription on his headstone.
