Private Arthur James Halliday was admitted to Fargo Military Hospital at 3 p.m. on 26th September, 1917, in an unconscious state suffering from injuries from a motor cycle accident.

Private Arthur James Halliday died at 6.50 p.m. on 26th September, 1917 at Fargo Military Hospital, Wiltshire, England as a result of a fracture to base of skull.

An inquest was held into the death of Private Arthur James Halliday on 27th September, 1917 (with thanks to Salisbury Inquests):

A rather unusual story of how the skidding and overturning of a motor cycle caused the death of an Australian soldier, named Arthur James Halliday, was related to the Coroner for South Wilts (Mr F. H. Trethowan) at an inquest held at Fargo Military Hospital yesterday (Thursday) afternoon.

Halliday was 36 years of age, was a private in a battalion stationed at Rolleston Camp, and came from West Brunswick, Victoria, where in civilian life he was a motor mechanic.

Private Holyrood said that at 2pm on Wednesday he saw him riding a motor cycle on the Salisbury Road, in the parish of Winterbourne Stoke. The machine was wobbling very much, and after it passed him it skidded and the rider fell underneath, the machine badly injuring him and rendering him unconscious.

Capt. Richmond, R.A.M.C., of Fargo Military Hospital, said death was caused through fracture of the base of the skull and fracture of the ribs.

A verdict of accidental death was returned.

A Court of Inquiry was held at Rolleston on 28th September, 1917 – President Capt. J. H. Fletcher of 24th Battalion was enquiring into an accident which resulted in the death of Private Halliday which occurred when riding a motor cycle.

Pte Holyhead, 470 of 24th Battalion was sworn in as 1st witness & stated that "About 2 p.m. on 26th September, 1917, while crossing a field about 20 yards from the Salisbury – Devizes Road, I saw a motor cyclist coming along the road at a slow pace which I estimated to be under 10 miles an hour. After passing a motor wagon and a civilian on a push bike going in the opposite direction, the motor cycle ridden by the motor cyclist above referred to, began to wobble. After going another 50 yards the motor cycle and rider swerved suddenly to the left with the result that rider came to the ground the rider being underneath the cycle. The rider was carried along for several feet under the machine. I went to his assistance, lifted the motor cycle off him, stopped the engine and commenced _____ what I could for the injured rider. As he appeared to be badly injured about the head and left hand and was unconscious I sent for an ambulance which quickly arrived ..... At no time while I was near did the injured rider, Private Halliday, recover consciousness.

2nd Witness – Capt. Richmond, T. H., R.A.M.C., stated that "Pte Halliday was admitted to Fargo Military Hospital at about 3 p.m. on the 26th September, 1917, in an unconscious state, suffering from fracture of the base of the skull and laceration of the left lung with fracture of some ribs on the same side. He died at 6.50 p.m. on the same day without regaining consciousness. There were no external wounds or abrasions."

3rd Witness – Lieut. J. K. Anderson, 24th Battalion A.I.F. stated that "I am Q.M. of the 6th Training Battalion of which the deceased Private Halliday was a member. Pte Halliday was employed in the Q. M. staff as a storeman. On the morning of the 26th September, 1917, Pte Halliday was sent into Salisbury on messing duty. A pass was applied for and procured in the regular way. Being a competent motor cycle mechanic and an experienced motor cyclist he was instructed to bring out a motor cycle from Salisbury.

The injuries received were fracture of skull, laceration of left lung, with fracture of some ribs. The Court found that Private Halliday met his death by falling from a motor cycle, that he was on duty at the time he sustained injuries & that the accident was not due to negligence on the part of Private Halliday & that Private Halliday was not travelling at an excessive rate of speed.

A death for Arthur J. Halliday, aged 36, was registered in the September quarter, 1917 in the district of Amesbury, Wiltshire. (Information supplied by Marion M. Halliday, wife of Private Halliday, for the Roll of Honour states Arthur James Halliday was aged 38 years at the time of his death.)

Private Arthur James Halliday was buried in Durrington Cemetery, Wiltshire, England – plot number 257 on 29th September, 1917 with a Military Funeral.

Private Arthur James Halliday requested in his Will, dated 13th July, 1917 that all his real & personal estate be bequeathed to his wife – Minnie Halliday of 612 Dawson St, West Brunswick, Victoria.

A War Pension was granted to Marion Miller Halliday, widow of late Private Arthur James Halliday in the sum of £2 per fortnight from 29th November, 1917. A War Pension was also granted to Phyllis Marion Maud Halliday – stepchild of late Private Halliday in the sum of 20/- per fortnight from 29th November, 1917 & also for Ruth Isabel Halliday – child of late Private Halliday in the sum of 15/- per fortnight from 29th November, 1917.

Private Arthur James Halliday was entitled to 1914/15 Star, British War Medal & the Victory Medal. A Memorial Scroll & Memorial Plaque were also sent to Private Halliday's widow – Mrs M. Halliday (October, 1921 & May, 1923)

The Commonwealth War Graves Commission lists Private Arthur James Halliday – service number 2382 as being 36 years old & served with 23rd Battalion Australian Infantry. He was the son of Charles & Catherine Halliday; husband of Marion Miller Halliday of 612 Dawson Street, North Brunswick, Victoria. Born at Victoria.

Private A. J. Halliday is commemorated in the Hall of Memory Commemorative Area at the Australian War Memorial, Canberra, Australia on Panel 99.

Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Defence Department, in 1920/21, contacted the next of kin of the deceased World War 1 soldiers to see if they wanted to include a personal inscription on the permanent headstone at Durrington War Graves Cemetery. Space was reserved for 66 letters only (with the space between any two words to be counted as an additional letter) & the rate per letter was around 3 ½ d (subject to fluctuation).

The expense in connection for the erection of permanent headstones over the graves of fallen soldiers was borne by the Australian Government.

(Information obtained from letters sent to next of kin in 1921)

Private A. J. Halliday does have a personal inscription on his headstone.

Durrington Cemetery, Wiltshire, England

Durrington Cemetery contains burials of both wars. The 204 First World War burials were mostly from nearby Larkhill Camp. Many of the graves are of Australian servicemen and there is a separate Australian memorial in the cemetery. The Second World War burials number 22. In addition to the war graves, there are a number of post-war service graves in the cemetery, mostly of the Royal Air Force.
