Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Defence Department, in 1920/21, contacted the next of kin of the deceased World War 1 soldiers to see if they wanted to include a personal inscription on the permanent headstone. Space was reserved for 66 letters only (with the space between any two words to be counted as an additional letter) & the rate per letter was around 3 ½ d (subject to fluctuation).

The expense in connection for the erection of permanent headstones over the graves of fallen soldiers was borne by the Australian Government.

(Information obtained from letters sent to next of kin in 1921)

Eliza Holland, mother of the late William George Sydney Holland, who lived at Footscray, wrote to Base Records in December, 1920 to advise that her husband from Bunyip had forgotten to put the verse that they wanted on the Headstone form & she was hoping that they would be able to arrange to have the following verse on their son's headstone: –

“With pride too great for tears,
We fake the coming years,
Remembering our dead,”

Serjeant W. G. Holland does not have a personal inscription on his headstone.
