Magnus Thomas JAMIESON

Magnus Thomas Jamieson was born at Tiaro, near Maryborough, Queensland to parents John James & Catherine Jamieson (nee Tait) on 18th September, 1892. He was one of nine children & the fifth son. His parents had arrived in the Maryborough region in 1884 from the Shetland Islands.

Magnus Thomas Jamieson attended State School at Tiaro, Queensland.

Magnus Jamieson was a 24 year old, single, Stockman from Maryborough, Queensland when he enlisted on 4th August, 1916 with the Australian Imperial Force (A.I.F.). His service number was 6823 & his religion was Presbyterian. His next of kin was listed as his widowed mother – Mrs C. Jamieson, Netherby, via Tiaro, Queensland. Magnus had served with the Rifle Club Reserves.

Private Magnus Thomas Jamieson embarked from Brisbane on HMAT Marathon (A74) on 27th October, 1916 with the 9th Infantry Battalion, 22nd Reinforcements & disembarked at Plymouth, England on 9th January, 1917.

9th Battalion

The 9th Battalion was among the first infantry units raised for the AIF during the First World War. It was the first battalion recruited in Queensland, and with the 10th, 11th and 12th Battalions it formed the 3rd Brigade.....

(Battalion information from The Australian War Memorial)

Reinforcements were only given basic training in Australia. Training was completed in training units in England. Some of these were located in the Salisbury Plain & surrounding areas in the county of Wiltshire.

On 23 January 1917, while on leave in London, Magnus wrote a lengthy letter to his Mother, in which he said “he had a nasty cough.” He said the parade ground has been frozen for the past week and some of his unit have frost bitten feet. He did not recover from his cough and in just 2 weeks after writing this letter he died. (Information from Gundiah Gazette – December, 2013)

Private Magnus Thomas Jamieson was sent sick from 3rd Training Battalion, No. 3 Camp, Durrington, Wiltshire to Fargo Military Hospital, Wiltshire with Bronchitis on 28th January, 1917 & reported as seriously ill on 29th January, 1917.

Private Magnus Thomas Jamieson died on 7th February, 1917 at Fargo Military Hospital, Wiltshire from Broncho Pneumonia.

A death for Thomas M. Jamieson, aged 24, was registered in the March quarter, 1917 in the district of Amesbury, Wiltshire.

Private Magnus Thomas Jamieson was buried on 12th February, 1917 at Durrington Cemetery, Wiltshire – Plot number 181 and has a Commonwealth War Graves Commission headstone.

Private M. T. Jamieson is commemorated in the Hall of Memory Commemorative Area at the Australian War Memorial, Canberra, Australia on Panel 56.

Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Defence Department, in 1920/21, contacted the next of kin of the deceased World War 1 soldiers to see if they wanted to include a personal inscription on the permanent headstone at Durrington War Graves Cemetery. Space was reserved for 66 letters only (with the space between any two words to be counted as an additional letter) & the rate per letter was around 3 ½ d (subject to fluctuation).

The expense in connection for the erection of permanent headstones over the graves of fallen soldiers was borne by the Australian Government. (Information obtained from letters sent to next of kin in 1921)

Private M. T. Jamieson does not have a personal inscription on his headstone.

Durrington Cemetery, Wiltshire, England

Durrington Cemetery contains burials of both wars. The 204 First World War burials were mostly from nearby Larkhill Camp. Many of the graves are of Australian servicemen and there is a separate Australian memorial in the cemetery. The Second World War burials number 22. In addition to the war graves, there are a number of post-war service graves in the cemetery, mostly of the Royal Air Force.
