Roy David JUSTICE

David Roy Justice was born on 10th March, 1895 at Thoona, Victoria to parents David Charles & Isabella Justice (nee Miller).

Roy David Justice enlisted with the Royal Australian Navy on 15th December, 1913 for a period of 5 years. He was given a service number of 3537. His next-of-kin was listed as his mother – Isabella Justice of Cowes, Phillip Island, Victoria. Roy Justice was 5 ft 4 1/2 " with dark brown hair, grey eyes & a fresh complexion. He had a scar on his left calf & a scar on his right mid-finger.

Roy David Justice joined H.M.A.S. Cerberus as Stoker 2nd Class on 15th December, 1913.

[H.M.A.S. Cerberus – previously H.M.V.S. Cerberus was renamed H.M.A.S. Cerberus when the navy became the Royal Australian Navy in 1911. By World War I, the weapons and boilers on H.M.A.S. Cerberus were inoperable & was confined to Port Phillip Bay in Victoria, Australia. The ship was retasked as a guardship and munitions store, while carrying the personnel of the Royal Australian Naval College on her paybooks.]

Stoker 2nd Class Roy David Justice was transferred to H.M.C.S. Protector on 31st January, 1914.

[In 1901, Protector was transferred to the Australian Commonwealth Government and became a Commonwealth naval vessel primarily based in Sydney, New South Wales. In the years leading up to the establishment of an Australian Naval Fleet, Protector was active around the southern and eastern seaboard. Her main role was to train the Naval Militia Forces of New South Wales, Victoria, and South Australia, a duty which she continued on following the foundation of the Royal Australian Navy. From September 1913, she served as a tender to the naval base HMAS Cerberus in Williamstown, Victoria. When World War I broke out in 1914, Protector was sent to Sydney and she began service as a parent/depot ship to two Australian submarines.]

Stoker 2nd Class Roy David Justice was transferred to H.M.A.S. Australia on 27th February, 1914. He was promoted to Stoker on 15th December, 1914. Stoker Roy David Justice had been assessed on 31st December, 1915 & his character was classed as very good & his ability as superior.

H.M.A.S. Australia

H.M.A.S. Australia was launched in 1911, and commissioned as flagship of the Royal Australian Navy (R.A.N.) in 1913. On completion she sailed for Australia and, on 4 October 1913, led the cruisers and destroyers of the fleet unit into Sydney Harbour to public acclaim.

With the outbreak of the First World War, Australia became the flagship of the force that captured the German colonies in the southern Pacific. She led a force which captured Rabaul on 13th September, 1914 before proceeding to Samoa.

In late December, 1914 Australia received orders to sail to England via the Pacific and reached Devonport on 28th January, 1915. En route she captured and sank von Spee's supply ship Eleonore Woermann off South America. From Devonport Australia proceeded to Rosyth in Scotland, where in February, 1915 she became flagship of the 2nd Battle Cruiser Squadron.

Newspaper Reports:

FEARED THE COLD AND RISKED SUFFOCATION

Two men have been found dead on a barge lying in the Forth, near Rosyth. They were Walter Matthews (31) and Roy David Justice (20), believed to belong to London. Owing to the coldness of the weather the men, for the sake of warmth, had closed the hatch and other outlets to the air. Death, which took place in the stokehold, had been due to suffocation.

TWO SEAMEN ARE FOUND SUFFOCATED IN STOKEHOLE OF BARGE AT ROSYTH

A tragic discovery was made yesterday morning on a steam barge at H. M. Dockyard, Rosyth, two seamen being found suffocated in the stokehole of the vessel.

The men were Walter Matthews (31) and Roy David Justice (20), both of whom are understood to belong to London. They were last seen alive at a late hour on Saturday night. It is thought that when they entered the stokehole, the weather being cold, they closed ventilators and fell asleep.

About seven o'clock next morning a fellow seaman entered the stokehole and found the two lifeless bodies of the men, death having taken place several hours previously. It was certified that the cause of death was suffocation.

IN MEMORIAM

JUSTICE – In loving memory of our dear comrade Roy Justice, H.M.A.S. Australia, who passed away, 5th March, 1916.

Loved by all.

JUSTICE – In loving memory of Roy Justice, who passed away the 5th March, 1916, H.M.A.S. Australia.

A sudden change at God's command he fell,
He had no chance to bid his friend's farewell.
Affliction came without warning given,
And bid him haste to meet his God in heaven.

Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Defence Department, in 1920/21, contacted the next of kin of the deceased World War 1 Royal Australian Navy members to see if they wanted to include a personal inscription on the permanent headstone. Space was reserved for 66 letters only (with the space between any two words to be counted as an additional letter) & the rate per letter was around 3 ½ d (subject to fluctuation).

The expense in connection for the erection of permanent headstones over the graves of the fallen was borne by the Australian Government. (Information obtained from letters sent to next of kin in 1921)

Stoker R. D. Justice does have a personal inscription on his headstone.
