Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Defence Department, in 1920/21, contacted the next of kin of the deceased World War 1 soldiers to see if they wanted to include a personal inscription on the permanent headstone at Durrington War Graves Cemetery. Space was reserved for 66 letters only (with the space between any two words to be counted as an additional letter) & the rate per letter was around 3 ½ d (subject to fluctuation).

The expense in connection for the erection of permanent headstones over the graves of fallen soldiers was borne by the Australian Government.

(Information obtained from letters sent to next of kin in 1921)

A letter from Base Records, dated 20th July, 1921, to Mr W. Lehmann advises that a letter from the Defence Dept. concerning an inscription on the headstone of the late Pte A. H. A. Lehmann had not been answered & non-receipt of a reply within 21 days would have to be accepted as indicating that no further action was to be taken.

Mr Walter Lehmann, brother of late Pte Arthur Lehmann wrote a letter, dated 3rd August, 1921, to Officer in Charge, Base Records enquiring into the cost of the headstone that was being proposed for his late brother, stating that he "would certainly like a head stone to be placed at my brother's grave but I am not in a position to expend much money on it at present." The Officer in Charge, Base Records replied on 6th September, 1921 advising that "the cost of the headstone, the erection of same, and the cutting on the tombstone of the regimental particulars, etc. will be borne by the Government" & that any personal inscription would have to be paid for by the next of kin.

Pte A. H. A. Lehmann does not have a personal inscription on his headstone.
