A letter from Chairman of Boulia Shire Council on behalf of Mrs Lilley dated 31st March, 1917, to Officer in Charge, Military Base Records queries if Mrs Lilley's son is in fact dead. She had received communication that Private Lilley had died on 2nd January, 1917 but after this received a Christmas card & a letter from her son "both bearing post-mark dated 3 Jan '17 "Codford St Mary"". Base Records replied stating that the letters could possibly have been given to the Hospital Orderly to post but instead had carried them around in his pocket for days – unaware of the death of the soldier in question.

Private W. A. Lilley was entitled to British War Medal only as he had not entered a Theatre of War. A Memorial Scroll & Memorial Plaque were also sent to Private Lilley's father – Mr J. C. Lilley (Scroll sent March, 1923 & Plaque sent July, 1922)

Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Defence Department, in 1920/21, contacted the next of kin of the deceased World War 1 soldiers to see if they wanted to include a personal inscription on the permanent headstone at Durrington War Graves Cemetery. Space was reserved for 66 letters only (with the space between any two words to be counted as an additional letter) & the rate per letter was around 3 ½ d (subject to fluctuation).

The expense in connection for the erection of permanent headstones over the graves of fallen soldiers was borne by the Australian Government.

(Information obtained from letters sent to next of kin in 1921)

Private W. A. Lilley does have a personal inscription on his headstone, though he does not have the Christian cross.

Durrington Cemetery, Wiltshire, England

Durrington Cemetery contains burials of both wars. The 204 First World War burials were mostly from nearby Larkhill Camp. Many of the graves are of Australian servicemen and there is a separate Australian memorial in the cemetery. The Second World War burials number 22. In addition to the war graves, there are a number of post-war service graves in the cemetery, mostly of the Royal Air Force.
