FUNERAL OF A CADET

Dies in Cambridge After Service in Gallipoli and France

The funeral of Cadet Conrad Martin Lucas, of D Co., No. 2 Officer Cadet Battalion, an Australian, who died at the 1st Eastern General Hospital on Monday, took place with full military honours at the Borough Cemetery yesterday (Thursday) afternoon. Cadet Lucas left Australia with the Australian Expeditionary Force in 1914, and saw service in Gallipoli and France. He came to Cambridge on the 8th of this month to train for a commission. The cause of death was pneumonia.

The first part of the service was held in the chapel of Corpus Christi College (where Cadet Lucas' company is stationed). The Service was conducted by Capt. the Rev. A. C. Bellerby, chaplain at the 1st Eastern, and the Master of Corpus Christi (the Rev. Dr. E. C. Pearce), Mayor of Cambridge, read the lesson, which was taken from Revelations vii. The hymn "the King of Love my Shepherd is" was sung.

The chief mourner was Sapper Baggott, of the Australian Imperial Force, Cadet Lucas's intimate friend, who happened to be in England when Cadet Lucas was taken ill and was present at his death.

The service was attended by Col. Edwards, C.B., O.B.E., Officer Commanding the troops, Capt. G. B. Mason, R.A.M.C., the whole of D Co., No. 2 O.C.B. and ten representatives of each of the other companies of the Battalion. The officers of D CO. present were Major C. G. Place, D.S.O., M.C. (Company Commander), Capt. H. Hoskin, Lieut. T. E. Adlam, V.C., and Lieut L. G. Robertson, M.C. There were also present the following representatives of the 1st Eastern General Hospital: Miss Crookenden (Principal Matron), Sister Wiseman, Staff Nurses Hainsworth and Sewell, and Nurses Bocock and Goldsmith (V.A.D.).

After the service in the college chapel the coffin, draped with the Union Jack, and bearing upon it the dead soldier's cap and belt and four beautiful wreaths, was conveyed to the Borough Cemetery on an Army carriage, preceded by a firing party from D Co., No. 2 O.C.B., under Capt. Grennan, and the band of the Battalion, under Sergt.-Drummer Gee, which, as the cortege left the college and again as it approached the cemetery, played the Dead March in "Saul." All traffic in the town was suspended as the cortege passed through, and as the carriage filed by, all heads were bared as a tribute to a brave son of the Empire.

The pall-bearers were: Cadets J. B. Treasure, C. B. Mole, H. F. Wheen, W. J. Corrie, G. H. Sinden, H. J. Herd, J. Harrison and C. O. Hamblin. They were accompanied by Cadets F. R. Swifte, J. Greenwood and P. G. Ballington.

The service at the graveside was conducted by Capt. Bellerby, after which the usual three volleys were fired and the "Last Post" was sounded.

Beautiful wreaths were sent as follows:- Cadet Lucas, A.I.F., in proud and grateful memory; From S. Chauvel and H. B. Stephen; From the officers, D. Co., No. 2 O.C.B., Corpus Christi College; In deepest sympathy, from the sisters-in-charge, sisters, nurses and his comrades of Ward 12, 1st Eastern General Hospital, Cambridge.

The inscription on the coffin was: "Cadet Conrad Martin Lucas, died March 18th, 1918, aged 27 years."

The funeral arrangements were conducted by Mr John Brignell, Newmarket-road, the military contractor for the district.

The Red Cross Wounded & Missing file for Cadet Conrad Martin Lucas contains a letter by the Chaplain to the Cadets – A. E. B. Bellerby, C. F. which reads: "Concerning Cadet C. M. Lucas. D. Coy. No. 2 Officers Cadet Battalion, Cambridge – Cadet Lucas came to Cambridge early in March & was posted to D Coy of No. 2 O.C.B. then billeted at Corpus College. He had only been in Cambridge a few days when he reported sick & was sent to the Cadets' Ward at the 1st Eastern General Hospital. There I visited him & found him very ill with pneumonia. The Medical Officer of the ward informed me that Cadet Lucas must have been sick with pneumonia before he came to Cambridge sine the disease was in an advanced stage when he was admitted into hospital.

I visited Cadet Lucas several times a day & was able to discover from him the existence of his chum Sapper J. P. Baggott, then stationed at the Australian Engineers Training Depot, Brightlingsea, Essex.

We wired for Sapper Baggott who came out at once to Cambridge, & was constantly with his chum. On Sunday morning (17.3.18) at about 2.30 am Cadet Lucas died. Sapper Baggott was with him at the time, also myself.

I made all arrangements for the funeral, which was carried out with full military honours on Thursday (21.3.18) by D. Coy, of No. 2 O.C.B.

A service was held in the chapel by Corpus College, where Cadet Lucas had been stationed. This service was taken by the Master of the College – Dr Pearce & by myself. At the graveside, I took the service supported by a firing party of officers & cadets from D. Coy. Cadet Lucas was buried in the Newmarket Road Cemetery, in a special plot reserved for Australians. Sapper Baggott was present, also the Australian Representative from H.Q. in London.

From Sapper Baggott I was able to obtain the address of Mrs Lucas in Australia, to whom I wrote sending a full account of the funeral arrangements as reported in the local papers. [Sapper Baggott had previously cabled Mrs

Lucas the news of Cadet Lucas' death.] Later, I caused photographs to be taken of the grave, copies of which I sent to Sapper Baggott & Mrs Lucas.

Sapper Baggott undertook to see to his chum's personal effects & papers; his military equipment was seen to by the Commanding Officer of his company in Cambridge – Major Place, D.S.O. D. Coy. 2 O.C.B. Cambridge.

There were several wreaths on the gun-carriage & later on the grave: from the Officers & Cadets of D. Coy, 2 O.C.B.; from the Sisters & patients of No:11 Ward, 1st E. G. Hospital, etc etc.

In sending to Mrs Lucas the photographs of her son's grave, I also enclosed the cards and expressions of sympathy attached to the wreaths.

I understand that Major Place, C/O D. Coy, 2 O.C.B. collected a sum of money from his company, with which he provided a much better coffin than that supplied by the military authorities."

Conrad Martin Lucas requested in his Will, dated 4th July, 1916, that in the event of his death, he bequeathed all moneys & personal effects to his sister – Bertha Lucas, of 38 Hopetoun Street, Paddington, NSW.

Base Records contacted Mrs J. Lucas, of 38 Hopetoun Street, Paddington, NSW in April, 1921 stating that she was listed on the records of the late Lance Corporal C. M. Lucas & were enquiring if there were any nearer blood relatives than herself & especially if the late soldier's father was still alive, due to the "Deceased Soldiers Estates Act 1918" which stated that the War Medals & Mementoes of a deceased soldier were to be handed in the following order of relationship – Widow, eldest surviving son, eldest surviving daughter, father, mother, eldest surviving brother, eldest surviving sister etc.

No reply was received & Base Records then contacted Headquarters, 2nd District Base in November, 1922 asking them if they could obtain the desired information.

In May, 1923, Base Records again contacted Mrs J. Lucas, of 38 Hopetoun Street, Paddington, NSW, asking if communications addressed as this will reach her & also if the father of the late Lance Corporal C. M. Lucas was still living. Mrs Jane Lucas, mother of the late Lance Corporal C. M. Lucas, replied stating that the communications of the 5th May, 1923 was the first she had received on the matter. Mrs Lucas stated that her husband had died 26 years ago.

Cadet Conrad Martin Lucas was entitled to British War Medal & the Victory Medal. A Memorial Scroll & Memorial Plaque were also sent to Cadet Lucas's widowed mother – Mrs J. Lucas, as the closest next-of-kin. (Scroll & Plaque sent June, 1923).

The Commonwealth War Graves Commission lists Cadet Conrad Martin Lucas – service number 9906, aged 27, of 2nd Cadet Battalion, Australian Infantry. He was the son of Martin and Jane Lucas, of 38 Hopetown St., Paddington, Sydney.

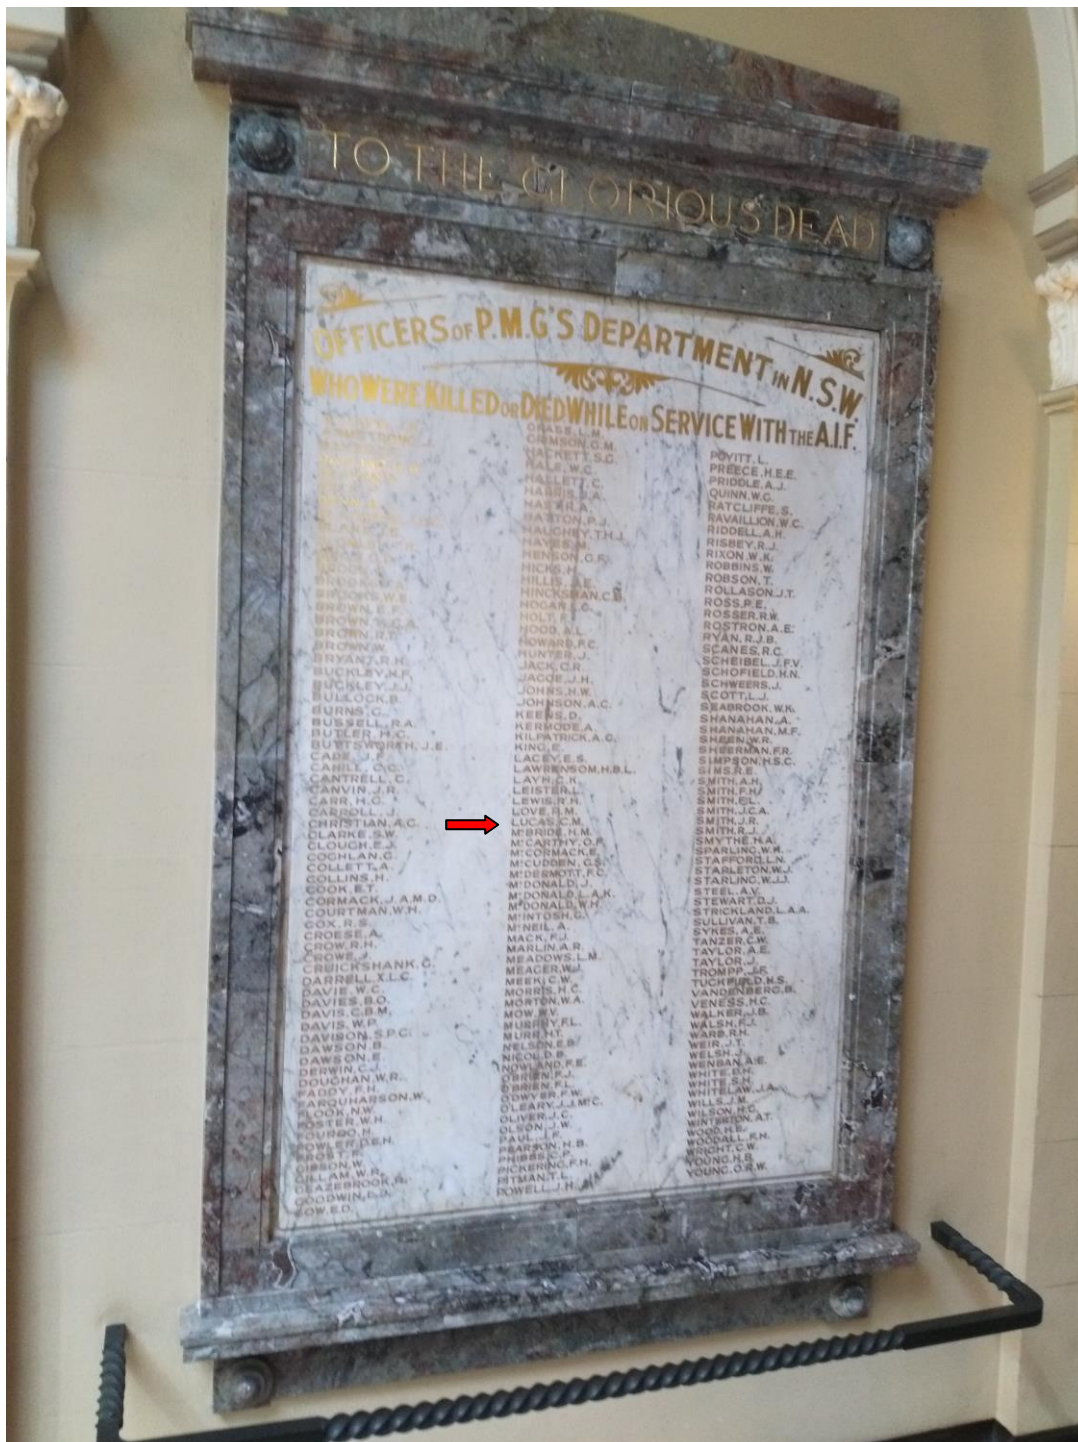

Cadet C. M. Lucas is commemorated on the Roll of Honour, located in the Hall of Memory Commemorative Area at the Australian War Memorial, Canberra, Australia on Panel 24.

Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Defence Department, in 1920/21, contacted the next of kin of the deceased World War 1 soldiers to see if they wanted to include a personal inscription on the permanent headstone. Space was reserved for 66 letters only (with the space between any two words to be counted as an additional letter) & the rate per letter was around 3 ½ d (subject to fluctuation).

The expense in connection for the erection of permanent headstones over the graves of fallen soldiers was borne by the Australian Government.

(Information obtained from letters sent to next of kin in 1921)

Cadet C. M. Lucas does have a personal inscription on his headstone.

Cambridge City Cemetery, Cambridge, Cambridgeshire, England

Cambridge City Cemetery, Cambridge (known locally as Newmarket Road Cemetery) contains 1,019 Commonwealth War Graves – 186 from World War 1 & 833 from World War 2.

The 1st Eastern General Hospital, with 1,173 beds, was posted to Cambridge during the First World War, initially at the Leys School and Trinity College, later in huts. The First World War burials in Cambridge City Cemetery are mostly in two plots, one in the southern part of the burial ground, known as the Dominion Plot, and the other on the northern boundary. The Cross of Sacrifice stands on the western border of the Dominion Plot, while in the centre of the other is a memorial cross of Portland stone which was erected by private subscription. The Second World War graves are also mainly in two War Graves Plots with a few others scattered throughout the cemetery. The general Service plot was established in 1940, and the Air Force plot in 1942 for the burial of casualties from the Air Force stations set up in the eastern counties during the war. These included Bomber Command bases in Lincolnshire and fighter stations in Norfolk and Suffolk. The Stone of Remembrance, which was unveiled by Marshal of the Royal Air Force Lord Tedder in July 1951, stands near the centre of the Air Force plot. Cambridge City Cemetery contains 181 Commonwealth burials of the First World War and 829, (inclusive 3 unidentified), from the Second World War. The cemetery also contains four non-war service burials and ten war graves of other nationalities.
