The Red Cross Wounded & Missing File for Driver R. D. Yeaman had a request from the Red Cross, on behalf of his relatives regarding the suffering, death & burial. Several replies were made:

- “Admitted to Fargo Military Hospital 9-10-16. Transferred to Tidworth 14-10-16. Suffering from a severe attack of Cerebro-Spinal Fever. At present he is better but there are still reasons for fair anxiety. Is a patient in our Lucknow Isolation Hospital. Regret to inform you that he is still in a very critical condition, suffering from Cerebro-Spinal Fever.”
- From the Officer in Charge Tidworth Military Hospital – “I have to inform you that several British relatives of this man visited him during his illness and they also attended the funeral. The Matron has already written to his relatives in Australia, and had given them full particulars concerning his illness and funeral.”

Driver Reginald Dietrich Yeaman was entitled to British War Medal only as he had not entered a Theatre of War. A Memorial Scroll & Memorial Plaque were also sent to Pte Yeaman's aunt – Mrs A. Dietrich (both sent October, 1922) A letter to Base Records, dated 27th September, 1922, from the only sibling of the late Driver Yeaman – Vera Spain, same address as their aunt, stated she had no objection to her aunt, Miss Alice Dietrich, receiving her brother's War Medals etc. as she had been named next-of-kin.

The Commonwealth War Graves Commission lists Driver Reginald Dietrich Yeaman – service number 20196 as being 21 years old & served with 108th Howitzer Bty, Australian Field Artillery. He was the son of Alfred and Lilian Gertrude Yeaman. Born in Victoria.

Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Defence Department, in 1920/21, contacted the next of kin of the deceased World War 1 soldiers to see if they wanted to include a personal inscription on the permanent headstone at Durrington War Graves Cemetery. Space was reserved for 66 letters only (with the space between any two words to be counted as an additional letter) & the rate per letter was around 3 ½ d (subject to fluctuation).

The expense in connection for the erection of permanent headstones over the graves of fallen soldiers was borne by the Australian Government. (Information obtained from letters sent to next of kin in 1921)

Driver R. D. Yeaman does have a personal inscription on his headstone.
